HANDY ANDY-WARE
WITHOUT SPIT BALL
DEFEATS COLUMBIA
"MULES" ANYWAY

McClain Pulls Chestnuts Out of Fire by Spectacular Catch in Ninth

EAKS SHOWS UP WELL AT THE INITIAL SACK

Sox Sorber Given Hand by Stands When He Begins Umpring Duties

Handy Andy Ware, veteran of many campaigns, spitball pitcher par excellence, turned in his first win for the Sox yesterday. The league still refuses to permit Andy to use his spitball, so he tackled the Columbia Mules without the advantage of the moist ball and beat them anyway, 7 to 5.

It remained, however, for McClain to pull the chestnuts out of the fire in the ninth when he made one of the most spectacular catches in the history of the local park. With one man on, Miller caught one of Ware's offerings on the nose and sent it flying toward the wall in deep left-center. It looked good for an easy triple and possibly a homer. The groan of the stands was changed in a moment to shouts of exultation when "Mac" leaped into the air, after a fancy dash, and nabbed the ball with his gloved hand, making the second out of the inning. Winkler flew out for the final out.

Yesterday's game was one of those kind which treat the fans to all varieties of baseball, good, bad and indifferent. In addition to McClain's wonderful catch, McDuff also contributed a scintillating fielding feature in the eighth when he went behind first and stabbed Winkler's grounder and forced out Miller at second.

Columbia again got away in the lead, scoring once in the first and again in the second. The Twins were unable to count until the sixth, Witt pitching air tight ball with men on bases. He worked out of a deep hole in the third when the bases were filled with none out, but the need hit was not forthcoming. The Twins had been smacking his offerings pretty steadily and in the sixth when Carter and Cochrane opened with triples, Hibbert was called upon to relieve the Mule pitcher.

Sox Sorber umpired yesterday's game, relieving Zemek. The latter's work has been the cause of much complaint. "Sox" was given a hearty hand by the stands when he made his appearance.

Eaks, a former member of the Night Hawks team of Huntsville, made his appearance in the local line up. He is a catcher and first baseman, playing the latter for the Twins yesterday. Eaks fielded his position nicely and beat out two infield taps. If Eaks continues his good work he will make somebody hustle for a place on the regular squad. Because of the low player limit it is almost imperative that McDuff play a catcher on first base, in order that he may have two backstoppers.

John Oechrane, who is fighting it out with Lewis for the third place in the outfield, played in right yesterday.

Code Telegrams Expected to Figure in Stillman Divorce Case as Plans for Legal Battle Pushing Forward

Woman of Mystery is Said to be Directing the Fight in Behalf of Ex-Banker—Telegraph Records to be Seized

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 25.—Counsel for James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank, were going ahead today with their preparations for the trial of the banker's divorce suit as though no negotiations for a settlement were in progress. Mrs. Stillman's attorneys, likewise, are active.

Cipher code telegrams, exchanged between Mr. Stillman and Florence H. Leeds, former chorus girl, with whom he was alleged by Mrs. Stillman to be infatuated, are to figure conspicuously in the evidence when the case is brought to trial. Mrs. Stillman's attorneys planned to subpoena records of both the Western Union and Postal telegraph companies in an effort to obtain possession of the code messages.

Investigators have been told that many of them contained advice for the ex-banker in meeting evidence unearthed by his wife. The impression was given out that Mrs. Leeds, the "woman of mystery" was virtually directing the fight of the man declared to be the father of her young son.

It is learned that what amounts virtually to an ultimatum has been served on the former banker. If Stillman does not accept it he may be forced to a trial regardless of his wishes. One of the next moves Mrs. Stillman has in contemplation is a $500,000 alienation suit against Mrs. Leeds.

FIGHT OVER RATES OF EXPRESS FOLK LOOMS AT CAPITAL

(Montgomery Bureau-Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 25.—The fight between the American Railway Express Company and the Southern Railway Express Company, which started operations over the lines of the Southern and allied railroads May 1, came before the Public Service Commission Tuesday when the hearing of the former's petition for the establishment of rates and routes for shipments over the lines of the two companies was started.

The American Railway Express Company proposed to the commission the establishment of rules which will require the new company to establish through rates and charges, while the latter company is opposing the petition, contending that it is an effort of the older company to obtain an advantage. Representatives of the new company insisted that the public will be better protected by real competition between the two companies. The American Railway Express Company insisted that the only service of an express company is to transport packages by the shortest routes in the quickest time possible.

Traffic managers of the chambers of commerce of Mobile, Montgomery and Selma—R. C. Cobb of Mobile, M. M. Caslie of Montgomery and Morgan Richards of Selma—appeared at the hearing as the representatives of the public. They took no part in the case but desired to obtain information which would show which plan would mean better service to the public at the best rates.

It is probable the hearing will continue a greater part of Wednesday. Both sides propose to offer witnesses in support of their contentions at the hearing Wednesday.

Sheriff's Case Up.
Sheriff John Strength of Elmore county will come before the Supreme court Wednesday in answer to articles of impeachment filed by the state charging him with offenses which may remove him from office. Sheriff Strength has summoned about eighty witnesses to counteract the evidence which the state proposes to offer. Fifty-five witnesses have been summoned by the state.

The articles of impeachment were filed by Judge Horace C. Wilkinson of Birmingham, special assistant attorney-general, after the grand jury of Elmore county had refused to recommend the removal of the sheriff from office. The state charges that Sheriff Strength has not enforced the prohibition laws among others. To each allegation Sheriff Strength's attorneys propose to plead not guilty.

About thirty housewives of Montgomery today protested to the Public Service Commission against the granting of a further increase in electric rates to Montgomery electric companies. They declared that all other prices are dropping and that the financial condition of the companies does not warrant another increase.

Resolutions opposing the petitions which were adopted at a mass meeting of housewives were submitted to the commission by Mrs. Charles R. Bricken, who led the delegation.

REVIVAL GROWING IN INTEREST DAILY AT WESTMINSTER

The services conducted by Dr. J. W. Caldwell at Westminster Presbyterian church are growing in attendance and interest. Services are held each day at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The sermon last night was based upon "Our Relationship to God as Our Father."

The preacher dwelt upon the fact that since we are "Children of God" we have a right to expect that He will provide for, protect and counsel us. That there is nothing in our lives too insignificant for His fatherly consideration.

On the other hand that since we are His "Children" He has a right to expect from us obedience and reverence. That we should guard the "family name" and bring no reproach upon it.

The plea was for Christians to make use of their claims upon God and render such filial obedience as becometh sons and daughters.

The services will continue throughout this week and next.

SALES TAX PLAN LOSING STRENGTH

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 25.—There is little probability of a sales tax being imposed by the present congress, members of the Senate finance committee indicated today when they resumed their investigation of tax revision proposals.

Opposition to a sales or turn-over tax of one per cent as provided in a bill fostered by Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, has grown since the committee began its hearings.

The committee is expected to conclude its hearing this week and after a conference with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon formulate recommendations for submission to the House ways and means committee when it begins work on a new revenue act.

HENRY EAST GETS PAROLE WEDNESDAY

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 25.—Governor Kilby, shortly after noon today, paroled Henry East, who is serving a term of 18 years for burglary.

East has made a number of sensational escapes during his term of imprisonment. The last time he was returned to the penitentiary he promised the warden he would let him know when he felt like trying to make a get-away, so he could be confined to a solitary cell. He has made such a splendid record of late he was made a trustee and later recommended for a parole by the Board of Pardons.

COUNCIL TO MEET

The Albany city council will meet in adjourned session Thursday night to hear protests to proposed sanitary sewers in the second and third wards.

KATCHY KOO HOLDS BOARDS THURSDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS AT THE PRINCESS

Brilliant Oriental Musical Extravaganza is to be Presented Twice

250 PEOPLE APPEAR IN THE LARGE CAST

Proceeds to be Used by American Legion's Home Building Fund

As the time for the opening performance of "Katchy Koo" at the Princess drew nearer today, the sale of tickets indicated a record crowd will view the two performances of the popular oriental musical extravaganza.

The first performance will be given Thursday night and the second Friday night. The rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks under the direction of Miss Grace Dandell, representing the John B. Rogers producing company, which is producing the show for the benefit of the Morgan County American Legion. Post's home building fund. The cast and choruses are rapidly rounding into "form" and most professional-like performances may be expected.

The cast contains approximately 250 members and the performance will be perhaps the largest ever given in North Alabama.

Katchy-Koo received its name from one of the leading characters in the extravaganza. An American aviator lost in India masquerades as an Oriental Fakir "Katchy-Koo," and all sorts of complications result. This role is taken by Q. B. Dowdy. Other characters are the Maharajah of Hunge, an East Indian Romeo, portrayed by Barney B. Brown, Dick Horton and Bradstone, two young American adventurers, Lamar Eyster and Robert Banks.

Mrs. Chatty Gaddin, a wealthy American widow, Mrs. Roy Horton and her two charming daughters, Dolly, Mrs. H. R. Summers, and Prudence, Mary Penick. Solejah the widow of a Wizard and Urbanah, High Priestess of the Temple are comedy character roles assumed by Mrs. Earl Calvin and Mrs. Arwin Dwyer.

Besides the principals, many attractive chorus groups and dances distinguished the production. Among these are the Oriental Veil Dancers, the Auld Lang Syne, the Polo Dancers and the Groups representing the Allied Nations, America, France, Italy, Belgium, etc. Then there is a wonderful patriotic finale entitled "Liberty Flame" which is said to fairly take the audience off their feet. "Yankee-Dixie Girls" and "Sammy's" give the necessary thrill and punch to this picture.

LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY RECEIVES DIPLOMAS TONIGHT

The largest graduating class in the history of the Albany schools will receive diplomas tonight when the annual graduation program is given in the Princess theatre, beginning at 8 o'clock. The class is composed of thirty students, 22 of them girls and 8 boys.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Prof. J. S. Thomas, professor of secondary education of the University of Alabama. Special music will be rendered by high school students.

Suspects Held in Bank Robbery Case

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—Five men arrested here this morning shortly after daylight in an automobile are believed to be the bandits who yesterday afternoon robbed the Union National bank at New Castle, Pa., of $60,300. No trace of the loot was found in the automobile, but police are not satisfied with the men's explanation that they came here from Franklin, Pa., to purchase a car. Police at New Castle have been asked to come here to identify the suspects.

VIOLENCE AGAIN THROWS DUBLIN IN A REAL PANIC

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, May 25.—The most gigantic outburst of violence in Dublin since the Sinn Fein Easter rebellion in 1916, flared up today with an attention to the government buildings.

Seven persons were killed, including black and tan policemen and more than 20 persons were wounded in the fighting between Republicans and Sinn Feiners. Many prisoners were taken by the crown forces. The damage was estimated at $5,000,000.

Fighting started after the rebels had applied the torch to the customs house. As flames leaped up from the customs house numbers of the clerical force ran into the street. Mistaking them for Sinn Feiners, the black and tan policemen opened fire, killing and wounding a number of them.

The customs house was completely destroyed. The fire spread from this building to other government structures. Liberty Hall, the headquarters of Jim Larkin during the 1916 rebellion, was set fire and destroyed.

As soon as the alarm was given British soldiers began pouring from the barracks. Armored cars were soon rumbling through the streets and all the thoroughfares in the business district were resounding to the roar of rifle and revolver volleys.

Firemen were held up at the point of pistols and refused permission to curb the flames. The whole city was thrown into panic. Streets leading to the suburbs were choked with refugees. The bullets did much damage to buildings that were not touched by the flames.

The British government has announced that it will not undertake independent military action against Germany and that the Anglo-French alliance must be maintained.

The opinion was advanced here that Premier Briand's statement has done much to clear the atmosphere of misunderstanding and that there is now every prospect of a harmonious meeting of the supreme council, when it convenes to discuss the Upper Silesian issue.

It is probably the council will be summoned next week.

TOWN BOMBARDED.
(International News Service)
BERLIN, May 25.—The Silesian town of Leschitz, which was recently captured by German volunteers, is under heavy bombardment by Polish artillery, said advices from the Silesian front today.

Polish attacks against the Germans in the Rosenberg sector were repulsed.

Koranyi, leader of the Polish insurgents, has issued a public proclamation threatening a fine of $1,000,000 marks to any resident of Silesia who pays taxes to Germany.

NEW ATTACK.

(International News Service)
PARIS, May 25.—When the chamber of deputies convened this afternoon for the critical session which was to determine the fate of the Briand ministry, a new attack was launched upon the government's general policy.

"We should maintain our friendship with England but we should also safeguard France's dignity and independence," declared a member of the house. "I hope that America will soon reenter world affairs and help at their solution."

Madame Currie is Ill in Pittsburg

(International News Service)
PITTSBURG, PA., May 25.—Madame Currie, discoverer of radium, came to Pittsburg today sick and asleep. Her doctor ordered her to rest, and cut short her "seeing America" trip.

Entertainments to exhaustion was the explanation given by one of the party for her illness.

REPRESENTATIVES OF MANY SECTIONS MEET THURSDAY TO PLAN FOR HIGHWAY

Conference Will Discuss Measures to Advertise Shorter Route to Florida

BANQUET TO BE GIVEN AT C. OF C. QUARTERS

Advantages of Bee Line Route Southward Are to be Made Known

The first step in the campaign of chambers of commerce and Kiwanis clubs for improvement of the highway system from Nashville to Montgomery will be taken here Thursday afternoon when representatives from many communities will gather for a conference.

The visitors will be entertained at one o'clock with a banquet in the rooms of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, given by the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis club. The business will begin at 1:30 o'clock.

Advices received here today indicated that Middle Tennessee and Alabama communities will be represented by big delegations. Several Indians from Columbia were expected. Franklin reports stated, a crowd is coming here from that city, others from Athens, Hartsville, Cullman, Birmingham and Montgomery were due to arrive here during the morning.

The route from Nashville southward through Franklin, Columbia, Athens, Albany, Decatur, Hartsville, Cullman, Birmingham and Montgomery is the shortest from the lakes southward to the gulf. Not only is it the shortest, but has many scenic attractions not given to other routes. The hotel accommodations are of the best and with improvement and advertisement of the highway, it is expected to become the most popular route.

The meeting here is the outgrowth of a movement launched several weeks ago when the chambers of commerce and Kiwanis clubs of all communities on the highway were urged to cooperate in an advertising campaign which will bring to this section a share of the heavy tourist travel.

A permanent organization is expected to be perfected here tomorrow afternoon.

Leroy was killed by a train last Friday. His description closely tallies with the missing Leroy of Detroit.

A man who was with Leroy when he was killed said he was a machanic and was beating his way south from St. Paul.

A liberal reward will be given for its return to the owner or to the Malone, Coal, Grain and Motor company. Mr. Rawls stated. The tire is said to have been found near the home of Luke Pryor by the driver of a Dodge car. The latter attempted to find the owner, making a number of inquiries on the ferry.

COLONEL EDWARD M. HOUSE
SPEAKS FROM EUROPE

The silence of Col. E. M. House, for which he became noted during the war, and during the making of the Versailles treaty has been broken, and the once silent advisor of President Wilson is now speaking regularly in syndicated correspondence from Paris. His last utterance is a discussion of what this country will do as regards the mandate system as adopted by the Allied supreme council and the League of Nations.

Col. House says that about a year ago, at the request of the United States, the council of the League of Nations postponed further consideration until June 27th of this year, of all questions affecting mandates. Col. House says: Viscount Ithi folded up his half read report on mandates and the council adjourned to await American response. So far as known to the public, Col. House says, this country has not yet accepted or rejected the invitation of the League of Nations to have an American at the June meeting in Geneva, to look after the matter of mandates from this country's viewpoint.

Europe is described as anxious to know and to be guided by the wishes of this country, but is becoming restless as to how long we will keep our views hidden from the world. Col. House believes that unless we send a representative to the League council in June, that it will be decided to go ahead with settling on mandates without the aid of consent of this nation.

He shows how the native population in many parts of Europe and Africa are anxious to be rid of the "irresponsible military administration" and are desirous of the installation of the mandate system. It is pointed out that this country entered an objection to the mandate as fixed for Mesopotamia on account of certain oil wells located in that country. The disposition of the Mesopotaman mandate will come up for discussion at the League meeting in June, and in all reason America, will be expected to be on hand to state her case.

Col. House takes a shot at the failure of America to enter the league from time to time.
In one place he says that according to the terms of the league, if America had been a member only a formal objection was necessary in order to have the whole matter of mandates or any other question held up and discussed at length.
Col. House commends the present administration for sending a representative to sit in the Allied Supreme council and argues that the same reasons that compelled Mr. Harding to send Harvey into the Allied council will force him to send a representative to the League meeting in June.

A WOMAN'S PAPER

Recently in one of the Western states a preacher undertook to edit a large daily. Just what his object was has never been fully explained, except for the intimation that he desired to show the real editor just how the paper should be operated. The women of our neighboring city of Florence took over The Florence Daily News Sunday and fared a great deal better. The Western preacher attained much publicity because of the novelty of the thing, rather than because of the excellence of his publication. The Florence women may not receive as much fame, but they served a good cause well. They published an excellent paper, the proceeds going to the Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital.

The entire editorial staff was composed of women. The editor, Prentiss Blackwell, who by the way is a local boy, deserted his editorial chair and turned it over to a feminine visitor. All of the stories of a local nature were written by the new staff, including the editorials and features.
The pages were filled with interesting, well edited copy and the entire edition reflects much credit upon its makers.

Judging from the advertising support the financial staff of the special edition were large.

GENERAL S MISSION

The General Leonard Wood is of more importance than the meager press dispatches from Manila would indicate.

President Wilson urged Congress to grant immediate independence to the Philippines, basing the request upon a pledge of the United States that independence would be granted when the natives proved their capacity for self-government.

Governor-General Harrison was a staunch advocate of independence. As President Wilson appointee, he entered upon his duties in 1913. Under his administration there was a steady relinquishment of American authority until, at the end, the islands enjoyed complete autonomy. The heads of all administrative departments are natives. The legislature is composed of natives and its power is subject only to veto by the Governor-General and Washington. Governor Harrison waived his veto rights and the only thing American about the administration in the islands when he retired was the American flag.

This condition is not and has not been to the liking of the Republicans in Congress nor to the majority of the Americans in the islands. The latter brand the Harrison experiment as an absolute failure and are demanding that the native administrators be ousted and Americans substituted. The natives declare the experiment to be a success and resent any attempt to disturb the statu quo.

There are few who incline to the belief that independence will be granted to the islands by the present administration. In Manila, it has become a matter of fierce dispute as to whether or not there will be a return to the policies of Governor Cameron Forbes, and, that there might be, is gleaned from the presence of Mr. Forbes in the islands at the same time with general Wood and acting in a similar official capacity.

President Harding sent General Wood and Mr.
Forbes to the islands to survey the situation and report. On this report will depend the administration's Philippine policy. And that report will contain the germ of future peace or war in the islands.

If the report is for a continuance of the Harrison policy, there will be no incentive for native uprisings. But if the report recommends the outing of Philippine administrators, we will have on our hands a disgruntled and hostile subject race.
The problem which we have to solve is a delicate one, and it is one in which politics should have no bearing.

We have the lessons of India, Egypt and Ireland before us. We cannot hope to hold a race of people in subjection once we have opened their eyes to the benefits of self-government, without paying the penalties that Great Britain is being forced to pay today.

There is little likelihood that the American people will tolerate an administration which sanctions the mailed fist policy.

If the Filipinos are not ready for complete independence, they should be helped to obtain it under the pledge given by this country when we purchased the islands. Any effort to retard the evolutionary process will be dangerous.—Nashville Tennessean.

HARVEY'S FIRST BREAK

Col. George Harvey, America's new ambassador at the court of St. James, has arrived in London and has landed in the midst of diplomatic circles with a big splash.

His first public utterance was featured by a statement that the United States has not entered the world war through any desire to save any European nation from destruction, but simply for the future protection of this country. Thus, with one ruthless stroke has the colonel cut down
our ideals, at home and abroad.

Also, in his speech Thursday night before the Pilgrims' Society in London, he assured his hearers that the United States never will enter the league of nations. He declared that the people's verdict at the polls last November settled that question.

And yet, Colonel Harvey, upon instructions from President Harding will go a step further toward recognition to the league of nations; than did the Wilson administration. Mr. Harvey will represent the United States as an "observer"
when the supreme council of the league of nations meets next week. Mr. Wilson, so long as this country was not a signatory to the treaty of Versailles and the league of nations covenant, did not feel justified in sending observers to meetings of the council.

It is unfortunate, indeed, that the personal opinions of Colonel Harvey, as expressed to the English people at the Pilgrims' Society banquet should be interpreted as representing the bulk of American opinion.—Gadsden Journal.

You cannot put the lid on a real man; but you can sit on him all right.

Indirectly, Sam America became the greatest bill collector of all time, when Mr. Hughes sent word to Germany there was "nothing doing."

There is very little said now from Washington about the League of Nations being "deceased."
Why? Mr. Harding has sent Harvey into a super League of Nations.

tational field can be interpreted in terms of the invariant properties of fourth-dimensional space.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.
The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S.
Fabric Tire line.

"As in the greatest cities so in his own home town—the U. S.
Tire user finds fresh, live tires of current production."

"In every section, however remote, you find a dealer in fresh, live U. S. Tires."

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires
—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches.
Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

Be Sure to Keep Blood Pure In Summer

Nature intended all creatures to withstand the normal changes of the seasons. You never saw a wild animal collapse from heat, did you? People wouldn't get "knocked out" either, if they had the vitality animals get from their blood.

Rich, wholesome blood gives bodily vigor, and if hot weather lays you low, try now to fortify your vitality with a good tonic that will drive the impurities out and leave your blood stream nourishing and robust.

S.S.S., the well known herb alternative, is fine for this; get it from your druggist today. Then write us about your condition, addressing Chief Medical Advisor, 843 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. We will send you free medical advice suited to your individual case.

Entrance Must Have Made "Hit"
One Sunday morning a crowd was standing on the depot platform, a short distance from our home, waiting for an excursion train. The night before we had hung curtains around the broad front porch, and were sleeping out there on our steel-winged cot, as it was very warm. I was sleeping close to the edge and when my wife got up rather suddenly over went the cot and I rolled out onto the lawn, clad only in my nightshirt, in plain view of the waiting crowd.

I didn't go with my wife to meet the returning excursion that evening. Exchange.

Two Methods.
"Now that you are earning a bigger salary," said the wife with social ambitions, "surely we can afford a bigger flat?"

But the husband was a man of simple tastes.

"We're very comfortable here," he said. "But if you like we'll ask the landlord to raise the rent."—Tit-Bits.

WORLD NOT YET FILLED UP

There Are Many Places Where the Lover of Solitude Can Find What He Is Looking For.

Crowded as the world seems to be getting, Robinson Crusoe could find a haven today, and he would not have to resort to the polar regions, either. Numerous islands still dot the seas where a visitor would find no living soul, and there are others, where the inhabitants are living in almost primitive simplicity, says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

Nor is it necessary for you to choose a plot of land belonging to any other than the United States. There is Baker's Island, 3,725 miles out from San Francisco, as well as many other such isolated dots in the Pacific, where there will be no chance of getting even a faithful Friday to share your lot. Vessels used to haul guano from the island, but today the deposits are practically worked out. If you feel that you must have your wife somewhere in the office you can send her on to Howland Island, 25 miles to the westward, an equally deserted spot, and row over to see her when you get bored with you freedom.

Progress on Isle of Man.

On the quaint and picturesque Isle of Man, made famous by Hall Caine's fiction, an ancient pump of the chain-bucket variety, built into a masonry abutment on the face of a rock cliff, lifts its endless load of water some eighty feet from the pool below, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. For many years a big steam engine of obsolete form, slow and extravagant of fuel, attended to the duty of turning the chain shaft. But now the old boiler and cylinder are gone, and in their place a modern wind motor has been installed, its slim, efficient steel form rising from the cliff top in striking, yet not inharmonious, contrast with the primitive ruggedness that marks the earlier work of man and nature. The whirling 26-foot wheel of the new motive power now is drawing up 14,300 gallons of water an hour, as an average figure, and it is significant of the value of modern methods that the saving of fuel, no longer needed for a hungry boiler, soon paid the cost of the mill.

Projected Aerial Newspaper.

The last word in journalism is the Aerial Mail, a daily newspaper, which is edited, printed and published from an airplane in flight. The Daily Mail, which is sponsoring it, says it will contain the latest British and continental news, political, financial and general, received both at the moment the airplane "takes off" and while it is flying, the news being sent by wireless. A special printing plant has been installed and newspapers will be distributed by means of parachutes dropping the editions into the towns the airplane flies over.

Chief Suffragette.

A friend who had known Thomas Riley Marshall for a great many years saw him after the cares of office had been removed from his shoulders, just as he was about to board a Washington street car. He stopped and asked him:

"Tell me, Mr. Marshall, what can be done to make the office of vice president a great office?"

"I'll tell you in one minute, and I won't even have to miss this car," said Mr. Marshall. "There isn't anything you can do. The vice president will always be chambermaid to the king."

Something Just as Good.

"Have you 'Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea'?"
"No, ma'am," said the facetious clerk, "but I own forty acres under water that was sold to me as good farming land."

REDUCTION OPPOSED.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 25.—General reduction of freight rates, "would still further reduce the ability of the railroads to survive and would not help solve the present complicated conditions in the United States" Howard Elliot, chairman of the Northern Pacific, told the Senate interstate commerce committee at today's session.

The world goes whither it is led!

THE WHOLE DESTINY of any people depends upon the quality of its leadership. The world goes only where it is led.

Prussia went war mad because she was led by militaristic apostles of ruthless force. Russia went Bolshevik because her leadership was ignorant and fanatical.

America has become the world's greatest democracy because her early leaders were Christian statesmen trained in Christian colleges. She will make further progress only in so far as that leadership holds the helm.

We May Go Wrong

America may yet go wrong. Already the Prussian advocates have invaded our schools. Even now the mutterings of radicals sound ominous. Unless leaders arise who swear allegiance to Christian principles we may yet end in confusion.

Class consciousness and all that it involves is created and fostered by irresponsible leaders and agitators with half-baked social ideas. It breeds strikes, industrial war, sabotage, red revolution.

A trained mind with a Christian conscience never yet led the world astray. And the world would never go astray if there were a sufficiency of such leaders.

Out of the Christian College

The Christian college is the only institution which even claims to produce leaders with both trained minds and Christian hearts. It is, therefore, fundamental in American life.

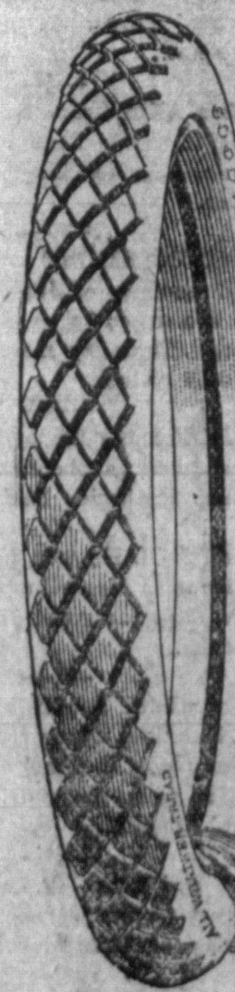

Its influence can give stability to the turbulent world. Its graduates will direct human activities into channels of peace. It will banish the Bolshevik from American life. It means stability, law and order. It means constitutional government and civil liberty.

The M. E. Church, South, undertakes the task of filling the world with leaders who will go straight. A great system of ninety schools and colleges, scholarly in curriculum and Christian in character, covering every section of the country with their influence, will be the medium. Do you approve?

Imparting the Truth.

There can be no doubt that the proper way of conveying to my understanding a truth of which I am ignorant, or of impressing upon me a firmer persuasion of a truth with which I am acquainted, is by an appeal to my reason.—William Godwin.

NEWS OF MOULTON AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, May 25.—(Special).—A rather peculiar accident occurred to Silas Parker, a young man living south of Moulton about the mountains Sunday. He was endeavoring to kill a rattlesnake, which he knew to be hidden in a hole in the ground, by means of a dynamite cap attached to a stick when the recoil struck him in the eye and inflicted other injuries about the face. A doctor was summoned immediately from Moulton and had the wounded man carried to Decatur for an X-ray examination by a specialist. It is questionable as to whether the eye can be saved. The other eye was lost in boyhood accidentally, hence total blindness may be the result of the endeavor to dynamite one of the few original inhabitants of the mountains.

According to advertisement of Tax Collector of Lawrence county a fraction over 745 acres of land was sold by auction to the highest bidder, Monday. All was sold for taxes and costs. A portion represented lands with owners unknown and others with owners known; much of it lies in the mountains and is destined to become a portion of the Forest Reservation.

Two men have just been lodged in the Lawrence county jail for alleged breaking into the store of Mat Graham, a prominent farmer-merchant living about half way between Moulton and Courtland at Mountain Home. The theft was committed one night last week. A considerable number of articles were taken.

J. F. Yarbrough, County Demonstration Agent, is inviting farmers and those who raise any fruits to examine a much needed object lesson in spraying of peach trees. He has kept sprayed a small orchard belonging to Dr. Price Irwin, and, at a cost of about ten cents the tree, has preserved the fruit that set on in the spring; one peach—an early May variety, is especially interesting as it hangs loaded with tempting red-ripened fruit, smooth and clean. In a near by orchard, unsprayed, the same variety of peach tree grows and its only products are rotten lumps of brown and falling fruit. The lesson ought to be observed by all the farmers and others interested in fruit growing to see the benefits of spraying.

One of those freaks that nature delights herself in performing at times was brought into Moulton Tuesday in the way of a chicken with three legs and four feet. The little fellow, alert and active seems to be of the Plymouth Rock breed and to be wholly unconscious of the third leg that adorns his back, apparently a projection of the spine, long enough to permit the two perfect feet attached to it touch the ground. The little fellow was discovered in a flock of chickens on the farm of Luke Montgomery, living out near Moulton.

Mrs. Sara S. Ervin, Elementary School Supervisor of Lawrence county has made a detailed report of her work for the year among the county schools and submitted it to the members of the County Board of Education. The 100 schools in the county employed 151 teachers and are scattered over an area of approximately 700 square miles. Her work was confined in the main to a number of schools that could be reached by means of horse and buggy from Moulton, the county seat. Since November 8, 1920, she has made 277 visits and spent 433 hours in class rooms; in these visits she gave help requested by teachers; observed the teaching and school management and gave suggestions therein; did considerable demonstration teaching; and, collected data for records and reports.

There were present at the time of the various visits 7,496 pupils and absent, 1,987. On her rounds she travelled 1,411 miles. In all 90 letters were written to individual teachers and 590 hours spent in preparing work for the teachers' use.

During the first month special help was given to the younger teachers in arranging their daily schedules and classifying the pupils. Those teachers not directly in her lines of visit were assisted by mail. She found that the enrollment for the year in the county was 7,443 as compared with 6,634 the year previous, an increase of an enrollment of 837; more gratifying still was the record in average attendance which last year was 8,974 and this year 4,588, an increase of 614.

The supervisor attended numerous meetings for teachers and gave demonstration lessons in reading and English with primary children. In addition many tests were given the pupils of the various schools and comparisons made between the work done in the one and the two-teacher schools. She recommend as among the big things for the County Board of Education to attempt as early as possible the consolidation of schools, the securing of better teachers, better support from the patrons, and enlarged reading facilities in the schools and thus in the homes; better school buildings, community organizations, health officers, and above all every effort possible to secure good roads for the betterment of the schools, Mrs. Ervin leaves this week for her home in South Carolina.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXII.—MINNESOTA

MINNESOTA is formed partly from a portion of the Northwest territory and partly by the Northeast section of the Louisiana Purchase. It was the Mississippi river which was the dividing line between these two large territories.

The Eastern section was ceded by France to Great Britain in 1763 and became a part of the United States at the end of the Revolution by the Treaty of Paris in 1783. The Northwest territory was organized by congress four years later. Then, as this great federal domain became settled and was gradually divided into states, the Eastern part of the present State of Minnesota belonged in turn to the Territories of Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

As to the western portion of the state, this was a part of the Louisiana Purchase, which was bought from France by the United States in 1803. As this region became subdivided, Western Minnesota formed a part of the Territories of Louisiana, Missouri and Iowa.

The first white man to penetrate to Minnesota was the French explorer, Duluth, who in 1678 built a fort on Lake Superior and there established a very extensive fur trade. Two years later, Father Hennepin and two companions were sent by La Salle to explore the Upper Mississippi and reached the Falls of St. Anthony, where Minneapolis now stands. But it was not until the Nineteenth century that permanent settlements were made. In 1822 the first mill was built at the Falls of St. Anthony, where were destined to arise such important successors. In 1841, Father Galtier built a chapel dedicated to St. Paul, and this was the foundation of the present great city of that name.

As to the name Minnesota, the state was so called from the river that runs through it, which in the Dakota Indian language makes the words "Mnne," meaning "Water," and "Sotah," meaning "Sky-colored." Sometimes the state is called the "North Star State," from the motto on its coat-of-arms.

Minnesota was admitted to the Union in 1858. Its area is 84,682 square miles and it is the most important of our wheat producing states. It has twelve presidential electors.

Restoring Luster of Pearls.

Although there is no method known that will positively guarantee the restoration of the luster of a pearl which has become dull through careless handling, the Ceylonese are said to have a novel way of trying to restore it. They simply feed dull pearls to chickens. After the pearls remain in the chickens' crops a few hours, the fowls are killed and the pearls removed. The light friction to which they have been subjected in the crops of the chickens is supposed to restore their luster, at least to some extent.

Olive in South Africa.

The wild olive is found throughout South Africa, but all attempts to establish a successful industry have failed so far. The principal drawback to the industry is said to be the presence of the "olive fly," an insect well known to the olive-growing countries of Europe.

TOOK OATH 'BY THE PEACOCK'

When Philip of Burgundy and His Knights Vowed to Engage to War for Holy Land.

In 1453 Philip the Good, duke of Burgundy, vowed "by the peacock" to go to the deliverance of Constantinople, which had recently fallen into the hands of the Turks. At the conclusion of the tournament and banquet held by the duke at Lille, Holy Mother Church, in the guise of a lady in mourning seated on an elephant and escorted by a giant, approached the duke and delivered a long verbiage complaint, claiming the aid and succor of the Knights of the Golden Fleece.

The herald advanced, bearing on his fist a live peacock or pheasant, which, according to the rites of chivalry, he presented to the duke. At this extraordinary summons Philip, a wise and aged prince, engaged his person and powers in the holy war against the Turks. His example was imitated by the barons and knights of the assembly; they swore to God, the Virgin, the ladies, and the peacock.

In this connection will be recalled Prael's brilliant charade, "The Peacock and the Ladies."

Named "Empire State."

The name of the "Empire State" was first given to New York by George Washington, in his reply to an address from the New York city common council in 1784.

AFFAIR OF GREAT DIGNITY

Daily Opening of Session of British House of Commons Is a Ceremonious Matter.

The recent retirement of Hon. William Lowther, who was speaker of the British house of commons for 16 years, has given rise to considerable comment on that job, which is one of great dignity. The opening of the daily session of commons is itself an affair of much solemnity.

First comes the speaker's attendant, wearing evening dress, with a gold badge suspended from a chain. As he approaches the inner lobby from the corridor the sergeant shouts, "Hats off, strangers!" and the procession immediately enters the lobby. Following the speaker's attendant comes the sergeant-at-arms bearing the massive gold mace. Somebody recalls that it was Oliver Cromwell who cried, "Take away that bauble," and for the time wrecked a custom that was speedily revived.

The speaker follows the mace. He is attired in a black silk gown, full-bottomed wig and silk knee breeches, the tail of the gown being lifted from the ground by the speaker's attendant, also gowned in silk. The chamberlain and the speaker's secretary bring up the rear of the parade.

It is said that the stranger who was inclined to smile at this display had only to glance at the face of the speaker to check his levity. The latter's composure and the fine dignity of his mien, robbed the ceremony of all staginess.

"INNOCENCE"—AND AN EGG

It Was Milwaukee Man's Misfortune That He Should Thus Have Been Doubly Armed.

A certain Milwaukee man bought an egg for next morning's breakfast late one night and placed it carefully in the outside pocket of his coat. On the way home he met a suspicious policeman.

"Are you armed?" inquired the guardian of the peace.

"With innocence," replied the citizen.

The policeman had never heard of that. He decided it must be some new kind of Swiss cannon for night use, backed the citizen against a wall and proceeded to pat him from head to foot in search for lumps. Ultimately he struck the lone egg.

"Ah-ha!" said the cop. "I thought so."

What he thought was never said. He jammed his hand down into the pocket and the egg exploded—wrecked by brutality. It spread over the inside of the pocket. It clung to the cop's fingers, stickily, gummily. The cop pulled his hand out and backed away.

"I got a notion to run you in for operatin' a shell game!" he said, thickly. "Go on—beat it!"

"Beat what—the egg?" asked the man sweetly.

The cop chased him two blocks before his wind gave out. Milwaukee Journal.

New Reason for Dehorning.

Young red cedar trees in the Wichita National forest are no longer injured by the herds which graze there. The solution of the problem was simple, the cattle are now dehorned. One of the drawbacks to pasturing national forests has been the injury which was apt to result to the young growth from the grazing animals.

After fire-protection methods on the Wichita were fairly worked out and fires became rare instead of the rule, red cedar began to come rather plentifully all over the forest under the oak stands. As the cedar began to reach a little size the supervisor of the forest noticed that it was being broken rather badly by cattle, both in the tops and in the branches. After some consideration the supervisor decided to ask the cattlemen users of the forest to run none but dehorned cattle on the Wichita.

Really Not Important.

An investigator claims to have discovered in some dusty archives that back in the days when the Pilgrims landed each person coming to America from England was required to bring with them eight bushels of corn meal, two bushels of oatmeal, two gallons of vinegar and a gallon each of oil and brandy. In view of the fact that nothing of importance hinges on the truth or falsity of this statement, not much time need be consumed to ascertain whether this is truth or fiction.

Brown Coal.

Germany expects brown coal to make her rich again. The beds of this newly discovered fuel are only a few feet below the surface of the ground, so that the material can be taken out with dredges. No shafts will be required; no timbering, no costly machinery, and no explosives. Of course "brown coal" is only coal in the making, with about one-third the heating value of bituminous. It contains much less carbon than the latter, more ash, and a good deal of water.

Important Experiment.

Domestic production of chaulmoogra oil, long used in Asia for the treatment of leprosy, is made possible through a consignment of seeds of the Hydnocarpus tree, sent from Siam to the bureau of plant industry. They will be experimentally propagated in Florida, Porto Rico and Hawaii. The oil formerly was obtained only from seeds of another tree grown in Burma.

Convict's Unhappy Knowledge.

The philosophers worry about the relations between space and time, but the convict doesn't. He knows that he is doing a large amount of time in a limited amount of space.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, May 25.—The road commissioner or whoever it is of Oyster Bay knows something about the psychology of advertising, as well as of the prosaic matter of making roads. Motorists on the north shore of Long Island meet with many kinds of signs giving warning of steep hills or sharp turns. This is especially true of the Shore road, which traces the coast line of the Sound. But it is a sign near Oyster Bay that really makes the speeding motorist think and hesitate. "Slow down," it says, "dangerous hill. Nearest hospital nine miles away."

Maybe it's the example of Mrs. Lyding Hoyt and her plunge into the movies which has spurred her sister, Mrs. Van Rensselaer C. King, equally prominent in New York society, into doing something still more startling. Mrs. King calls her enterprise "a business career." Anyway, she has just established a firm known as the Town and Country Secretariat, Inc., which proposes a place qualified persons in that particular "set" of society to which they are best adapted. When the particular social luminary has "arrived" Mrs. King's headquarters will advise her steps as she treads the mazy path of social success.

What is work? And why do you work? Is marriage work? Those are a few of the questions the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. is going to find out about. Now that Thomas A. Edison has started a flood of academic questions abroad in the land, the Y. M. is going to send out a list of decidedly practical ones. Personal opinion, not the verdict of historians of geography, will be what's wanted as replies. A convention resolution was adopted by the Board recently for the studying of the place and significance of work in the life of woman and then—here's the particularly practical note—for the promotion of the necessary instruction. The questionnaire being compiled will ask for a definition of work, and in cluding that disputed question noted above, ancient marriage. Then it will ask why the questioned person works. For necessities? A desire for self-expression? Among the other questions already framed are: What is the value of work? Why is having to work sometimes regarded as undesirable? If you were married, would you work? What reward does a married woman receive for caring for her home? Does a home-maker have to spend as much money as before she was married? From the replies to these queries—and many more—the Y. W. classes will be planned to meet as best they can what seem to be the chief demands for vocational training.

Gone are the days when prestige and flash of uniform holds the heart. "I don't like this game; there's no money in it," said Policeman Alvin

M. Fhrke, the other day as he walked up to Lieut. Fleming, took off his shield and handed it to the lieutenant. "I quit." Pressed for a reason, Gehrke explained that he was going to drive a pie-wagon. It paid better. And none of the advantages urged on the side of being a policeman with a badge and authority and everything compared, in Gehrke's mind, with the pay and the joy from driving pie about the city streets.

Out of Order.

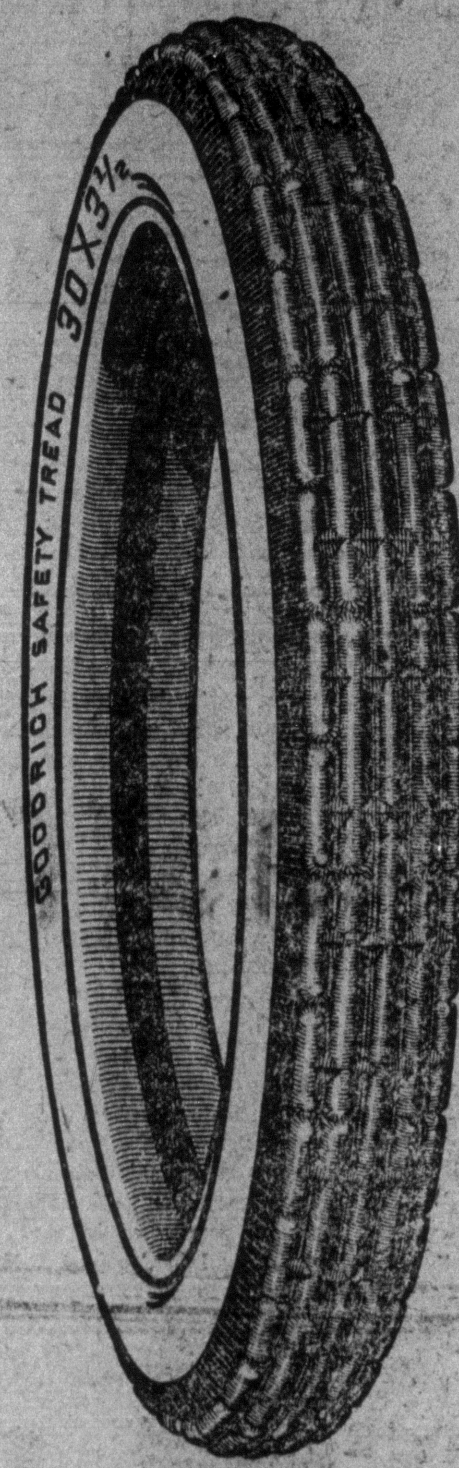

"That motion is out of order," said the chairman of a political meeting as he saw a rowdy raising his arm to throw an egg.—Pearson's Weekly.
